KEFIADA VOLUNTEER GUIDELINES

Kefiada serves as a bridge over the summer for Israeli students, in 4th-6th grade, to retain the English that they have learned during the school year and expand on it. Kefiada is a great way for college students to get back to Israel, really become a part of Israeli life and help Israelis in a meaningful way. There is no program cost, plus free room and board and $1200 flight stipends for all counselors. Kefiada typically runs from late June to late July. The dates for next summer will be June 22-July 22, 2020.

Kefiada volunteers participate in a rewarding and challenging experience both working and playing in Israel. The experience includes teaching English to Israeli children, living with Israelis, learning about Israel, the people and the culture, through people-to-people relationships, connections, and friendships.

Kefiada provides Jewish college students who either are from Chicago, or go to school in Illinois, the opportunity to have a real impact on Israeli society through their daily interaction with the campers and their families while exploring the beauty, complexity and vitality of JUF's Partnership Together (also known as P2G) region and Israel.

Please take the time to read and familiarize yourself with the enclosed information. If you have any questions, please contact Brooke Mandrea, your JUF representative, at 312-357-4737 or email Kefiada@juf.org.

Participation in Kefiada is based upon acceptance of the applicant by the Jewish United Fund.

What is Kefiada?

Kefiada is an English-speaking day camp in Kiryat Gat-Lachish-Shafir (also referred to as “the Region”). Kefiada takes place in Kiryat Gat. The campers are 4th-6th graders from the Region; the counselors are college students who are either from Chicago or go to school in Illinois.

Kefiada assists Israeli children to master basic English language skills in a camp setting while enjoying creative and fun camp activities. Very similar to the kinds of camp experiences in which you participated in the USA, but this time the campers’ native language is Hebrew.

English and the skills you can help teach will be essential to these children as they begin to compete and interact in today’s world. In addition, Kefiada is one of the best People-to-People programs, strengthening the “living bridge” between you and Israel.

What is Partnership Together (P2G)?

The Jewish Agency’s Israel Department together with the United Jewish Communities and Keren Hayesod launched Partnership 2000 in 1995. This innovative program links Jews in Israel and the Diaspora in an effort to promote Jewish continuity and develop Israel’s priority areas — the Negev, Galilee and Central Israel.

Re-branded Partnership Together in 2011 the program offers Diaspora communities an opportunity for direct involvement in developing Israel’s peripheries. The Negev and Galilee hold more than two-thirds of Israel’s land reserves, yet only house 17% of the population.

To date, there are 46 partnerships regions connecting 350,000 people. Nearly every region combines urban centers with neighboring rural areas. The principle categories for intervention are immigrant absorption, population growth, job creation, and human needs. People-to-People involvement is the heart of Partnership Together.

How many counselors will be volunteering in the Region in Israel this summer?

Up to 10 volunteers from Chicago are sent to be Kefiada counselors each summer.

How old are the Israeli campers?

The campers are in the 4th-6th grade.

Am I the only counselor in the group?

No. In addition to your co-counselors from Chicago, you will be paired with an Israeli co-counselor who has been trained to work at Kefiada and will work alongside you.

Am I in charge of the camp?

No. Kefiada volunteers are group counselors who are responsible for the well-being and activities of a group of Israeli campers. The camp itself is directed by the local Kefiada Camp Director who is assisted by JUF and JAFI (Jewish Agency for Israel) local staff.

In addition, JUF provides a coordinator who is responsible for the well-being and extra-curricular activities of the Chicago volunteers in the region.

What does a typical day at Kefiada and Kefiada-Dati look like?

7:30 a.m. Arrival at Camp

8:00 a.m. Camp Day Begins

Camp schedules are based on theme days such as food day, water day, American day, animal day, etc. During the day the activities that you develop are related to the theme including vocabulary words, songs, games, snacks, art and crafts projects, trips, drama, storytelling, etc.

1:00 p.m. Camp Day Ends

Lunch followed by a summary meeting which often includes reviewing the next day's theme and activities.

4:00 p.m. Free Evening

During some afternoons and evenings during the summer, the P2G coordinator will plan trips, hikes and site seeing, and interesting experiences. Participation in these activities is required of all Kefiada volunteers.

Where do I live during Kefiada?

Kefiada counselors will live with an Israeli host family in the Region. These kinds of housing opportunities afford volunteers the unique experiences of living in Israel in an authentic environment, getting to know the people and contributing first-hand to strengthening the ties that bind Kiryat Gat-Lachish-Shafir and Chicago.

What kind of qualifications do I need?

First, Kefiada volunteers are college students between the ages of 18-23 who have graduated from high school, participated in a gap year, or are current college students. Volunteers are from Chicago or go to school in Illinois. To fully enjoy the Kefiada experience this should not be the counselor's first visit to Israel.

It is also helpful if Kefiada volunteers are qualified, trained counselors who have experience working with children in camp settings and/or youth movements and, in addition, have exhibited leadership skills, creativity, and flexibility.

What training is provided?

All Kefiada volunteers participate in an orientation in Chicago and seminars once they get to Israel. This is MANDATORY for all Kefiada volunteers.

What are the dates of camp?

Kefiada dates for summer 2020 are June 22 - July 22.

How do I apply?

There are two parts of the Kefiada application: the written application and an in-person interview.

There is a rolling admissions process. The application deadline, for all parts of the application to be submitted, is April 17, 2020.

FOR YOUR INTERVIEW:

Contact Brooke Mandrea to arrange your mandatory, in-person interview:
