What impact looks like

JUF/Federation uplifts 500,000 locally, millions globally

The Jewish United Fund/Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago exists for a reason—several reasons, actually: to provide human services for Jews and others in need, to create Jewish experiences, and to strengthen Jewish community. In short, we’re here to enhance as many lives in as many ways as possible.

To have impact ... that’s what drove JUF/Federation in fiscal year 2017 to serve over 500,000 Chicagoans of all faiths and to support humanitarian assistance for millions of Jews in Israel and 70 countries worldwide.

Impact is seeded with passion and flowers with revenue

For 117 years, JUF/Federation has been an anchor of support, addressing a wide range of Jewish community needs in good times and bad. From enriching Jewish education to support for families in distress, from bolstering health and human services for the elderly to inculcating Jewish identity in young people, we have been consistent—and consistently growing.
JUF/Federation’s multi-faceted financial resource development efforts secured $299,780,250 in revenue in FY 2017. This included donations, bequests, grants and other sources, including individuals, foundations, endowments, donor advised funds, government contracts, the United Way and other streams. The largest single source was JUF’s Annual Campaign, which, thanks to the generosity of tens of thousands of donors, raised $84,282,469 in 2016, an increase of $1.16 million over the 2015 campaign. Permanent bequest and endowment revenue, earmarked for long term investment needs and hence not available for immediate allocation, totaled $78,909,313. Thus, $220,870,937 was available for allocations from the JUF/Federation balanced budget.

The sacred undertaking for JUF/Federation—on behalf of those donors—is to fuel impact in ongoing areas of need, in line with the organization’s historic mission and tradition of service, and to identify and address emerging needs of the Chicago and global Jewish community.

Few years have illustrated as starkly as 2017 that nothing is static. From local uncertainty about funding of human services, to global political instability, to increased incidents of anti-Semitism, the year has been one of tension. But it also was a year of promise, as Chicago’s Jewish community stepped to the plate to help.

Areas of impact

ADDRESSING HUMAN NEEDS

In FY17, JUF/Federation allocated $26,183,556 for local human services delivered through a rich variety of service providers, including JUF/Federation’s core agencies: Jewish Child & Family Services, CJE SeniorLife, Dina & Eli Field EZRA Multi-Service Center, Jewish Vocational Service, Mount Sinai Hospital and more. This funding allowed individuals and families across the age spectrum to get the therapeutic and vocational services they needed, provided emergency financial assistance as well as medical and dental services, supported advocacy and protection programs, sustained Holocaust survivors, and offered a wide array of services to people with disabilities.

When it comes to impact, the results of this investment, across the spectrum of human services, are impressive: 575,681 meals, food bags and groceries helped feed the hungry; 5,384 households (89 percent more than the previous year) remained in their homes and healthier upon receiving emergency financial assistance to pay for housing, healthcare and other critical expenses; 41,090 individuals received free or highly subsidized mental and physical health care; and 23,656 older adults participated in a range of services aimed at improving their quality of life.

Amid this impactful level of service, concern for the future abounds. Yet, at a time when public sector funding cuts forced our core agencies to reduce certain services to the most vulnerable populations in the Chicago area, JUF/Federation was able to leverage existing partnerships, programs and services to shore up the safety net.

Supporting Israel and Overseas Programs

Some $29,537,092 went to help vulnerable populations in Israel, Ukraine and elsewhere overseas, providing significant support for Jews in crisis through JUF/Federation partner agencies and programs that include Jewish Federations of North America, American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, Jewish Agency for Israel, and World ORT.

Nearly 111,000 impoverished elderly and 22,884 children throughout the countries of the former Soviet Union depend on JUF agencies for food and other aid to sustain them. In Israel, which has the highest child poverty rate in the Western World, JUF/Federation agencies provide a wide range of educational and social welfare services for vulnerable and at-risk youth.

At a time of continued social instability in Europe, Russia and Latin America, immigration to Israel, also fueled by the enduring Zionist spirit, saw our overseas partner, the Jewish Agency for Israel, providing services to 29,650 olim (new immigrants).

JUF/Federation not only attends to the physical well-being of Jews in Israel and elsewhere; we also are concerned about the well-being of their Jewish identity. For example, we expressed our value and support of religious pluralism in Israel in 2016-17 by allocating $300,000 to support diverse projects in Israel of the Progressive (Reform) and Masorti (Conservative) movements, as well as Modern Orthodox and non-denominational programs.

Confronting Anti-Israel Activities

Working to ensure the welfare and security of Jews at home and abroad is a core value of JUF/Federation. Aligned with that is our work to defeat anti-Israel and anti-Jewish forces on college campuses, in the halls of the legislature, in the court of public opinion, and beyond.

In 2016-17, we increased our investment in this crucial work, enhancing our capacity. We hired a Senior Counselor to maintain and build new faculty relationships and to serve as liaison with national organizations to link JUF/Federation to national anti-BDS efforts. We also hired a Communications Manager-Israel Affairs to focus communications strategically and tactically, tailoring messages that frame issues and help mobilize collaborative efforts. The new JUF Link newsletter focusing on Israel advocacy is one visible outcome.
Reaching out and educating non-Jews about Israel is another strategy of JUF/Federation. In December, JUF’s Israel Education Center brought student leaders, representing diverse ethnic, religious and cultural backgrounds at campuses across the Midwest, to Israel. Last July Illinois Treasurer Michael Frerichs led a JUF mission to see Israel’s high-tech and business sectors.

Overall last year, some 8,735 students, parents and community members attended pro-Israel college events and Israel advocacy programs through JUF’s Israel Education Center and Hillel, and 3,805 college students engaged in Jewish life on Illinois college campuses, raising their awareness of Jewish values, knowledge of Israel, and commitment to the greater Jewish community.

These efforts bear fruit. For example, with guidance from JUF’s Israel Education Center, students at the University of Michigan last November helped defeat a number of divestment resolutions. In the spring, the University of Illinois at Urbana–Champaign’s student body rejected a referendum calling on the university to divest from 16 companies doing business in Israel.

Given the urgent need to counter the movement to boycott, sanction and divest from Israel, in January, Chicago became the first federation to invest in the Jewish Advocacy Strategy of JLens, a vehicle for socially responsible investors to express their Jewish values, support Israel, and counter BDS in that arena.

CREATING A DYNAMIC COMMUNITY

In 2016–17, JUF/Federation worked to make the Jewish community more vibrant, engaging Jews of all ages through a wide array of programs, initiatives and service opportunities that create Jewish experiences and promote Jewish community.

We’re proud of the impact of these efforts. For example, last year 7,757 families with young children received free Jewish books and music each month through JUF’s PJ Library program, and an additional 1,856 children ages 9-11 received books through JUF’s PJ Our Way program. Some 5,178 Jewish families participated in JUF and JCC Young Families programs, exploring Jewish life and connecting to other Jewish families through arts and crafts, storytelling and holiday celebrations.

Also during FY17, JUF/Federation allocated $17,724,477 to agencies, organizations and programs that promote Jewish continuity: Jewish Community Center of Chicago, 16 Chicago-area Jewish elementary and high schools, Associated Talmud Torahs, Chicago Board of Rabbis, Hebrew Theological College, and Spertus Institute for Jewish Learning and Leadership are among the agencies and beneficiaries that rely on JUF for significant funding.

Some 28,135 children and youth engaged in Jewish learning and built stronger Jewish identities through formal and informal Jewish educational experiences. To help ensure that all students have those opportunities, JUF/Federation supported financial tuition assistance to more than 3,118 students—72 percent of those enrolled—at 15 local Jewish day schools. We also expanded the REACH program (Resources for Educational Achievement, Collaboration and Health) over the last year. Initially created as a partnership between JUF, Associated Talmud Torahs and Jewish Child & Family Services and now administered by ATT, REACH builds the capacity of local Jewish Day Schools to serve students who learn differently.

And through JUF’s Community Foundation for Jewish Education, we helped strengthen Jewish preschools and congregational schools through a variety of initiatives. Among them were partnering with JUF Young Families on $100,000 in Barrier Buster grants to make early childhood education more accessible to young families, adding a Director of Early Childhood Educator Training to provide teacher training and curriculum development and, with support from Crown Family Philanthropies, the Jack and Goldie Miller Family Fund and an anonymous donor, launching CHIdush: Inspiring Innovation in Jewish Education to re-envision congregational programs.

An additional $7,472,534 was allocated to efforts promoting Jewish identity through Israel outreach, advocacy and cultural connections at the local and national level. These include combating anti-Israel campaigns, Israel study programs on college campuses, and sponsoring JUF Birthright Israel trips. Funding also supports academic scholarships and fellowships, and agencies such as the Illinois Holocaust Museum and Education Center.

ENHANCING SECURITY

Sometimes, specific needs emerge from the tenor of the times. According to the most recent figures available, the number of violent anti-Semitic assaults in the United States increased 56 percent over the previous year, and anti-Semitic incidents nearly doubled on U.S. college campuses. (According to FBI reports, Jews are the single largest targets for religion-based hate crimes in the United States.)

In the face of these threats, security for Jewish institutions became an even greater concern. JUF/Federation held a special Security Summit in March, drawing more than 180 participants from over 70 area Jewish organizations and facilities. We announced a new JUF matching grant program that in 2017 is providing a total of $1.175 million in annual grants of up to $50,000 to enhance security at 61 area sites. These include 25 synagogues, 17 day schools and preschools, 12 agency locations, three camps, two colleges and more. The grants were made to facilities in the city of Chicago and Near North, North and Northwest suburbs, as well as in Elgin, Naperville, Lombard and Wisconsin. Reflecting a total project cost of approximately $2.86 million, the JUF program enables security enhancements ranging from surveillance systems to facility access control to security personnel and other site improvements and measures.

TRYING NEW APPROACHES

For JUF/Federation, the need to create impact spurs new approaches. Such was the impetus for the Chicago premiere of “Defiant Requiem: Verdi at Terezin,” a special performance at Symphony Center, entirely underwritten by the Crown Family and Pritzker Family Philanthropic Fund. The initiative raised over $4.6 million to benefit the Federation’s Holocaust Community Services program. This funding will help CJE SeniorLife, in collaboration with other human service agencies, better serve Holocaust survivors, maximizing their independence through in-home services, emergency financial assistance, group support, advocacy and socialization.

Enhancing innovative programming also is the objective of the JUF Breakthrough Fund, which in 2016-17 awarded approximately $1.1 million in grants to a wide variety of promising initiatives. Breakthrough grantees focus on diverse areas like inclusion of teens with special needs; raising awareness about mental illness; crisis intervention and self-sufficiency for at-risk Israeli young adults; professional development for those working in the Jewish community; and creating new Jewish experiences for bar and bat mitzvah celebrants, college students and congregants.

Other prominent examples of the Jewish community choosing JUF/Federation as the conduit for funding impact were the creation of the Jewish United Fund Sidney and Rose Shure Charitable Trust, The Norton & Elaine Sarnoff Center for Jewish Genetics, and JCC Chicago’s new Marvin Lustbader Center for Health, Wellness and Fitness.

The Shure Charitable Trust, in particular, reflects JUF/Federation’s sense of civic responsibility not only to the Jewish community, but to the wider population. By providing $425,000 in grants to the United Way of Metropolitan Chicago, The Shure Charitable Trust provides... a vehicle for JUF/Federation to support several community organizations offering multi-faceted approaches to violence prevention.

RELIEF EFFORTS

Chicago’s Jewish community, through the aegis of JUF/Federation, also demonstrated yet again in 2016–17 that it heeds the imperative to “not stand idly by” when people suffer natural and man-made disasters. Through the Jewish Federation Aleppo Assistance Fund, opened last December, the Chicago community provided close to $120,000 in aid to assist victims of the humanitarian crisis in Syria. Last fall, JUF joined with the Syrian American Medical Society and Syrian Community Network to raise awareness of the crisis. Also last December, JUF advanced $500,000 to its overseas partners to help those affected by massive wildfires in Israel. The Jewish Agency credited JUF’s assistance for being able to provide grants of $1,000 to more than 200 families unable to return home.

Members of the community not only contributed tens of thousands of dollars, but also volunteered through JUF’s TOV Volunteer Network to go on a relief mission to assist with cleanup efforts in the aftermath of Baton Rouge flooding. We also opened relief funds in the wake of Hurricane Matthew in the Caribbean, Hurricane Harvey in Texas and Hurricane Irma in Florida.

Overall, the Chicago Jewish community’s spirit of volunteerism and civic responsibility was exemplified by the 14,036 community members of all ages who volunteered 149,795 hours of their time through JUF’s TOV Volunteer Network and JUF agencies, providing hands-on assistance at both Jewish and secular community institutions, in projects that ranged from serving meals to people in need to tutoring at-risk children.

“The Chicago community provided close to $120,000 in aid to assist victims of the humanitarian crisis in Syria.”

Focus on the future

Engaging members of the next generation so they will be Jewishly identified, involved and affiliated is both a centuries-old concern and an immediate and abiding challenge for the community. During 2016–17, JUF/Federation increased its investment in initiatives to build the next iteration of Jewish Chicago, with 7,333 young adults attending 600 JUF-sponsored education, advocacy, fundraising and outreach events—58 percent more events than a year earlier.
We launched Springboard Chicago, JUF’s community-wide initiative for teens, by offering 12 different alternative high school break experiences this school year. JUF, Springboard Chicago and the Jewish Teen Alliance of Chicago announced the first cohort of “18 Under 18,” Jewish high schoolers selected for their leadership, tzedakah, fostering of inclusion, and other Jewish values. They represent 14 Chicago-area schools and 16 synagogues. And JUF’s Community Foundation for Jewish Education for the first time organized two Ta’am Yisrael trips to Israel for Chicago-area eighth-graders, bringing a total of 247 students on a unique peer experience.

Although we truly live in uncertain times—when some question the relevance of centuries-old values and communal institutions—we are optimists. This past year, the power—and the promise—of the collective prevailed as the generous spirit of our community has shone forth. Jews may disagree about many things, but about one thing all those in the family of JUF/Federation agree: We are together for good.

The Centennial Campaign

For over 100 years, the Jewish United Fund/Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago has provided health and human services to those in need. In honor of its Centennial anniversary, the Federation embarked on The Centennial Campaign, a capital and endowment campaign that anticipates community needs in the decades to come.

Together, the Federation and its affiliated agencies and beneficiaries have selected a wide range of projects that address the evolving needs of a diverse community, offering contributors an opportunity to make a meaningful gift at many levels.

The names of qualifying Centennial Campaign donors will be engraved in stone on our Centennial Wall in the Jewish Federation's lobby, echoing the beauty, history and meaning of the walls of Jerusalem.

The Centennial Campaign offers a variety of gift-planning opportunities:

• Legacy Funds, the most flexible of the Centennial gifts and the only source of emergency resources, enable the JUF/Federation to respond to crises and opportunities whenever and wherever they occur.

• Centennial Projects provide donors the opportunity to fund high-priority capital or programmatic initiatives. These include special naming opportunities.

• Campaign Continuity and Lion of Judah Endowment Funds sustain a donor’s annual gift to the Jewish United Fund in perpetuity, providing crucial support for Federation initiatives, at home and abroad, today and for generations to come.

• Agency and Day School Endowment Gifts ensure that the network of services that are the lifeblood of our community will be available to future generations.

• Income for Life Funds provide a donor or his/her loved ones with income payments throughout their lifetimes and sustain the Jewish community for future generations.

The Federation's experienced gift-planning professionals will be pleased to discuss the tax-advantaged ways to structure a Centennial Campaign charitable gift with you and your advisers. For more information, please call 312.357.4853 or email legacy@juf.org.

The Center for Jewish Philanthropy

Deciding how to meet charitable obligations can be confusing and overwhelming. The Center for Jewish Philanthropy can help by reducing the complexity and paperwork associated with charitable giving, allowing donors to focus on their philanthropic goals and values.

Through these opportunities donors can build a lasting testament to their names, families and the causes they hold most dear. It’s a legacy that will carry on l’dor v’dor, from generation to generation.

Donor Advised Funds

Donors may establish a Donor Advised Fund in their names or in honor of a loved one with a $1,000 minimum contribution. The fund earns tax-free income while the donor recommends distributions to any approved public charity, either secular or religious.

Supporting Foundations

Individuals, corporations or families who commit substantial resources to philanthropy may establish a Supporting Foundation affiliated with the Jewish United Fund/Jewish Federation. Functionally similar to a private family foundation but with more attractive benefits, a Supporting Foundation operates under a board of directors jointly appointed by the donor and the Jewish United Fund/Jewish Federation and enables the donor to engage future generations, fulfilling a philanthropic vision.

Bequests

The Jewish Federation and Jewish United Fund gratefully recall those—may their memory be a blessing—who have left the posthumous mark of their compassion upon our community through a bequest to the Jewish Federation or Jewish United Fund.

During the year ended June 30, 2017, the Jewish Federation and Jewish United Fund were advised of the following bequests. The farsighted and dedicated people making these gifts have fulfilled their commitment to ensure the future welfare of the Jewish community in Metropolitan Chicago, Israel and throughout the world. Money received from these bequests is added to the Federation Endowment Fund. The income produced by the Endowment Fund will provide $7,038,954 to support our agencies during the coming year.
